OUR PURPOSE
Revolutionizing the sexual and gender climate by eliminating barriers and advancing healthy sexuality.

OUR POTENTIAL
Leadership in sexuality research, education, clinical care, and advocacy to promote positive sexual and gender health for all.

CLINICAL CARE
Developing exceptional evidence-based clinical approaches to sexual health.

EDUCATION
Creating a nationally recognized center for sexual health education.

ADVOCACY AND PUBLIC POLICY
Advocating for sex and gender rights.

RESEARCH
Generating ground breaking discovery through sexual health research.

OUR WORK
This was an amazing year for the Program in Human Sexuality. We have had a significant increase in the number of publications and grant activity. Our clinical services continue to transform lives, even when the increased clientele constitutes a waitlist. We have made major revisions to our human sexuality course for medical students, which is still one of the finest in the country. Our postdoctoral fellows have had remarkable success with their scholarly output. We started an online certificate program in human sexuality and are working to establish a master’s degree program in human sexuality. Based on scientific knowledge, we continue to advocate for sexual and gender rights, access to care, and policies which foster sexual health around the world.

We could not accomplish this without the wonderful faculty, fellows and staff of the Program. While we have done well in clinical, educational, and research income, philanthropic support has been critical to maintaining our excellence and investing in critical areas.

These are challenging times as we continue to experience threats to the sexual and gender health of our nation. The fundamental right to sexual health is being challenged – from abortion rights, contraceptive availability, funding for HIV and STI prevention, health care insurance for sexual health conditions, laws and policies guaranteeing fundamental rights of the LGBTQ community, and funding for critical research in sexual health.

Now more than ever, we will continue to revolutionize the sexual and gender climate by eliminating barriers and advancing healthy sexuality. As the premier institute for sexual health, we are committed to providing the leadership needed to advance sexuality research, education, clinical care, and advocacy to promote sexual and gender health FOR ALL!

With your continued support, we have established the only two endowed Chairs in Sexual Health in the world and are working to establish two new endowed Chairs in Clinical Sexual Health and Sexuality and Aging. With these positions, and establishing our National Center for Gender Spectrum Health, we are poised to move the Program to an Institute level at the University of Minnesota. As the Program prepares for our 50th Anniversary, we will create a lasting legacy which will be impactful in ways that our founders only dreamed about. We will keep dreaming and turning those dreams into reality!

Warmly,

Eli Coleman, PhD

• NIH R-01 currently funded for 5 years, teaching and evaluating sexual health to medical and nursing students in Tanzania
• Developing sexual health education evaluation tool for the general public
• Developing an additional MOOC in sexuality and disability

EXPENSES
An endowed chair in this area will allow a faculty leader to provide exceptional clinical care to individuals, couples, and families. In addition, the chair would advance research to develop best practices and evidence-based clinical approaches to sexual health, with the goal of leading and influencing the community of care around the world. Of particular importance are evidence-based practices for:

- Increasing pleasurable sexual experiences across the lifespan
- Clinical care of transgender and gender non-conforming individuals
- Treatment of compulsive sexual behavior, paraphilia, sexual pain disorders, and sexual desire concerns

Bean Robinson and her partner, Walter Sawicki, have directed a generous donation to this effort. Dr. Robinson has a multifaceted and extensive career in clinical sexual health: from HIV research studies in the 1990’s to the many individuals and relationships she has helped through her thoughtful clinical care. Dr. Robinson’s mentorship and work ethic have inspired countless faculty to rise to her standards.
An endowed professorship in sexuality and aging will ensure the ongoing sustainability, growth, and success of our bold three-pronged mission to:

• Expand scientific research in positive sexual health and clinical care for older adults
• Improve education about aging and sexuality for healthcare providers
• Provide accurate information and positive attitudes about sexuality among aging people through the media

PHS named this professorship to honor Dr. Pepper Schwartz for her lifetime of contributions to the field of sexual health. Dr. Schwartz has written or co-authored 25 books. She appears prominently in magazines, on the web, and on television on the subject of sexuality. Dr. Schwartz also served for over a decade as the love, sex and relationship ambassador to AARP.

Pepper Schwartz, PhD, is a sociologist and sexologist who teaches at the University of Washington in Seattle.
ESTABLISHING THE NATIONAL CENTER FOR GENDER SPECTRUM HEALTH

Mission: to eliminate gender-based stigma and discrimination, support healthy gender identity development for both cis and transgender people across the lifespan, and expand research to improve healthcare and quality of life for transgender and gender-diverse individuals, families, and communities.

2018 was wonderful for NCGSH: We threw a fundraising party at the Phluid Project in New York City, hosted an educational summit for young transgender/gender diverse people and their caregivers, and still made time to present our revolutionary GALA™ method at 32 different conferences and events!

The faculty and staff at the NCGSH are also working towards a deeper vision: mentoring and promoting LGBTQ BIPOC (Black, Indigenous, People of Color) scholars and leaders in the field, and collaborating with other clinics to promote transaffirmative care.

Alongside local organizations like Reclaim!, the Minnesota Trans Health Coalition, and Family Tree Clinic, we are revolutionizing the gender climate.

Warmly,
Dianne Berg, PhD & Katie Spencer, PhD
Co-Directors, NCGSH
DONOR SPOTLIGHT:
BEAN ROBINSON
AND WALTER SAWICKI

Bean: Together, as faculty and partners (which is a commitment all by itself), we’ve spent the last 27 years as a part of what is arguably the largest mental health clinic devoted to human sexuality in the country: the Program in Human Sexuality.

Growing up during the 1960’s on the cusp of the 2nd sexual revolution, we’ve seen the emotional devastation that sexual ignorance and repression can cause people. We’ve seen the intense pain and shame that sexual problems cause our clients. But we have also witnessed remarkable changes in lives as their sexual problems are overcome/conquered.

Philanthropically, we are committed to developing, providing, and promoting the best evidence-based clinical treatments for all sexual health concerns:
- Sexual pain, low desire and problems with arousal
- Clinical care for transgender/gender non-conforming adults, adolescents and children
- Compulsive, out-of-control sexual behavior

We are also committed to conducting clinical research that will increase pleasurable sexual experiences across the lifespan for all and develop effective solutions for the sexual health problems that will affect nearly 100% of us at some point during our lives.

Walter: PHS is important to me because it is my partner’s life work and I fully support the good it has done over nearly 50 years for its patients. I’m aware of the many people who have come to PHS with sexual and/or gender issues that have devastated their lives. They have been helped to accept who they are and regained healthy sexuality.

Bean and I fully support causes that are effective in helping the lives of our friends and neighbors here on Earth. Healthy sexuality can be as important to a person’s life as feeding the hungry, providing shelter to the homeless, or guaranteeing legal rights for all. But supporting a cause does not mean giving blindly. Organizations must be efficient and effective. We believe that PHS is qualified to deliver.

We believe this endowed chair will help practitioners all over the world by providing effective therapy techniques to them that will increase the odds of successfully helping their patients.

Although the world is full of suffering, it is also full of the overcoming of it. — Helen Keller
As my time as Chair of the Leadership Council for the Program in Human Sexuality (PHS) comes to an end, it has been an honor and a privilege to be a part of this incredibly dynamic and dedicated group of people. The accomplishments made in the last decade have been remarkable: the first Chair in Sexual Health in the country, followed by the Joycelyn Elders Chair in Sexual Health Education. Then came three philanthropically funded fellowships: the Michel E. Metz Fellowship in Couples’ Sexual Health, the Doug Braun-Harvey Fellowship in Compulsive Sexual Behavior and the Randi and Fred Ettner Fellowship in Transgender Health. Further, we have been able to find initial funding to launch the National Center for Gender Spectrum Health, which has been doing important work for a couple of years now.

Significant progress has been made towards funding the Bean Robinson Chair in Clinical Sexual Health and the Pepper Schwartz Professorship in Sexuality and Aging.

I’d like to thank all of the members of the Leadership Council for their dedication and commitment to the cause of advancing sexual health. And, very special recognition goes out to Jennifer Pritzker and the TAWANI Foundation for providing not only the lead gifts but the vision to help make these projects possible. As I pass the torch, we can look forward to new ideas and new energy to help continue to move forward in achieving our goals by connecting with like-minded individuals, businesses and foundations. My thanks to PHS Director, Dr. Eli Coleman, for giving me the opportunity to be a part of this remarkable organization.
